

Who IRC?

What if I told you, there is a world that values you – for your thoughts, your opinions and who you are?

There is.

On IRC, I was accepted, listened to, and spoken to. IRC adopted me. IRC accepted me. And above all, IRC befriended me, without hesitation. I have met many friends on IRC.

IRC truly grew me as a person.

IRC, is a transcended level of humanity, that values you for all the other genes and experiences that make you, you – unlike the "real" world which is utterly focused on nothing.
